PAH nurse a victim of Philippines typhoon

THE Filipino community in Harlow is this week mourning the death of a PAH nurse who was killed in the devastating Philippines typhoon.

Jeffrey Ducusin, who worked as a staff nurse at the hospital for 10 years, returned home to the Philippines about two months ago. Both he and his mother were killed when Typhoon Haiyan struck on Friday.

Mr Ducusin's wife Joy, who is also a nurse, survived but their six-year-old son Jiro, who attended St Luke's Catholic Primary School in Pyenest Road, is currently missing.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said yesterday (Wednesday): "Everyone in Harlow should say a special prayer for Jeffrey Ducusin."

He added: "We should do all we can to help. May Jeffrey rest in peace."

Friends, colleagues and members of the Harlow Filipino community have been paying tribute to Mr Ducusin, pictured left.

"I have had the privilege to work with Kuya Jeff, wrote one former colleague. "Such a warm and nice gentleman. One of the best nurses, truly caring for his patients who will be deeply missed."

Many paid tribute to Mr Ducusin's calming nature, describing him as a "lovely man" with a "great sense of humour" and a "wonderful nurse" who was a pleasure to work with.

A farewell mass will be held at Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church, in Traces Road, Harlow, on Sunday, December 1.

The community has now launched an appeal to help the survivors, whose houses were reduced to splinters by the 235mph winds which created 20ft waves. They are seeking donations which will be airlifted straight to the communities that need it the most.

A statement released by the community said: "Harlow nursing staff are in a state of shock at the loss of life in Philippines typhoon. We appeal for clothing to donate to homeless people in Philippines."

The Philippine government says it is facing its biggest ever logistical challenge in the wake of the typhoon - known locally as typhoon Yolanda - which has affected up to 11 million people. The official death toll stands at more than 2,200 but local officials and aid workers say it could rise much higher.

PAH nurse Vanessa Abellana, whose family live in a region that was less affected, told the Star: "We have started collecting items to send. We're really trying to help people to rebuild their lives."

She explained that without a national health service survivors

Woman robbed by three men as she waits at bus stop

A WOMAN was robbed by three men as she stood at a bus stop in Harlow.

The victim was waiting for a bus near Kingsmoor Academy, in Plovers Road, at 11.30am on Wednesday, October 23 when a white Ford Focus pulled up beside her and three men got out.

They searched through her pockets and took her money before driving off.

The first suspect is described as black, in his late 30s, 5ft 9in tall with short hair, a line beard and moustache. He was wearing a cream jumper and blue jeans.

The second man was black, in his mid 20s, 5ft 6in tall and of chubby build with wavy hair which was cut shorter at the sides. He was wearing a shiny black adidas top and blue jeans.

The third man is also black, in his mid 20s, about 6ft 3in tall and had a thick afro hair-style.

Although the woman was not physically injured, the incident left her very shaken.

Anyone with information should call Harlow CID on 101.

Two-year ASBO for 'genuine menace'

A MAN described police as a "genuine menace" has been given a two-year anti-social behaviour order.

Dougie Edwin Wright, of Herons Wood, Harlow, is not allowed to enter The Hides, must not use threatening, insulting or abusive words or behaviour to any person and is not allowed to congregate in a group of three or more people in a manner which causes or is likely to cause any person to fear for their safety.

Sergeant Rob Cox, of the Harlow Neighbourhood Police Team, said: "Dougie Wright had been a genuine menace to residents of The Hides for a number of months."

Shopper injured in car park accident

A SHOPPER suffered a fractured shoulder after she was involved in an accident with a car at Tesco's Edinburgh Way store.

The accident occurred on Friday afternoon when the 57-year-old woman, who was pushing a trolley, was struck by a white Vauxhall Corsa near the store entrance.

She was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital suffering from a broken bone in her foot and fractured shoulder. The male driver was spoken to by police with regard to careless driving.

Clock Tower roadworks to take six months

SIX months of works at Harlow's Clock Tower roundabout on the A414 will begin in May.

The Government this week announced it was investing £345m in a total of 21 road improvement schemes in the east of England next year.

The work in Harlow will take place at the roundabout between May 2014 and January 2015.

The scheme will provide north to west and west to north left turn slip lanes and widening of the approaches to the roundabout together with improvements to pedestrian and cycle facilities.

The news follows months of disruption during the construction of the nearby hamburger junction at Potter Street and ongoing works at the Burnt Mill roundabout.

Roads minister Robert Goodwill said: "Roads are the lifeblood that keeps our economy going – they create jobs and help get products to markets."

"The Government is committed to delivering the modern infrastructure we need to compete in the global race."

"We are already seeing massive improvements being made to our major roads and motorways. In 2014 the public will see even greater improvements right across the country."

Petition against children's centre cuts is launched

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PETITION has been launched against the proposed closure of two of Harlow's popular children's centres.

Last month Essex County Council announced plans to axe 11 centres across the county and halve the opening hours at a further 33 centres, a move it says will save £2.5m between 2014 and 2016.

Under the proposals the ABC Children's Centre in Old Harlow and the Sunflowers Children's Centre, which is based at Summers Leisure Centre in Broadly Road, would be closed.

Suzy Stride, Labour's parliamentary candidate for Harlow, has joined mums to campaign against the closures. They have launched an online petition which has gained more than 200 signatures so far.

Ms Stride said "The children's centres in Harlow provide essential services to families, and play a crucial role in bringing the community together."

"In meeting with mums it is clear that these services make all the difference in their lives and their children's lives.

"Labour in government would be putting families first, investing in children and parents and supporting children centres."

Mum-of-two Jo Watkins, who lives in Harlow, said "The children centres are important for mums. They stop them feeling lonely and isolated."

"They help with training, support and advice and ensure children get some of the early intervention that they need.

"Children's centres are so vital for the kids so they get to interact and for parents to get advice and support."

The county council said the proposals, which are out for public consultation until December, might give greater opportunity for community outreach work.

All the centres in west Essex are run by Spurgeons.

CAB has developed its services to meet the needs of its clients

SIR, In response to recent letters and news articles, I would like to express my disappointment in the way that Harlow Citizens Advice Bureau and its team of professional volunteers and staff are being portrayed.

In response to the letter to our website, this is managed by a professional volunteer who provides valuable time in designing and creating. Since its last update we have been successful enough to have employed debt/housing and benefits specialists who assist our bureau and are providing many different services to our clients.

Also due to a gap of provision of service we are now awaiting a response from a funder to provide court representation to those clients who need this vital assistance.

Our bureau has had to develop its service and in turn has to continue to raise funds in order to meet the needs of our community.

So not only do we provide audited quality generalist advice and information, we now also provide specialist appointments and work together with many other organisations to provide a solution to our clients problems.

Tiziana Groom, operational manager
Harlow Citizens Advice Bureau

Council must call time on this fundamentally unjust scheme

SIR, I endorse the comments by Hugh McAlpine with respect to the closure of Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice Service (Letters, November 7).

Harlow Council's irresponsible attack on the service is indeed costing council taxpayers dear. It is an irony that part of that cost has been inflicted upon one of the groups that the service was set up to advise - jobless householders.

The council has chosen to make good the shortfall in central government subventions by demanding that the poorest householders in the town pay a minimum of 24 per cent of their council tax liability. For single householders under 25 on Jobseekers Allowance living in Band A-C properties this amounts to a cut in their subsistence benefit of between 6.3-8.4 per cent. For those over 25 in similar circumstances, the cut is between 5-6.6 per cent.

That this is an intolerable burden is evident from the fact that one third have defaulted. Of 3,754 in receipt of maximum council tax support on October 15, 1,232 were liable for the full amount of their bills, having failed to pay on time and thus lost the right to pay in instalments. Figures also obtained under a Freedom of Information request reveal that 913 jobless householders in Harlow were issued with court summonses for non-payment of council tax between June and October this year.

The Labour regime that came to power last year has inflicted a triple whammy on the poor. First they closed the Advice Centre, then they withdrew the municipal TV aerial service and finally they inflicted a cut of between 24-100 per cent in council tax relief.

READER Annette Turnbull sent in this photo of a spider's web covered in early morning dew which she took in the back garden of her home in Felmgongers, Harlow. "It looks just like little pearls all in uniform formation, like a rainbow," she writes.

If you have a photo taken in or around the town which you would like to feature in our Photo of the Week section, email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Please remember to include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

council tax support scheme is fundamentally unjust in that it contradicts the principle of progressive taxation, that those most able to pay should bear the greatest burden.

The Resources, Housing and Governance Overview Working Group meets on November 19 to review the scheme and make a recommendation as to whether it should continue in its present form. I ask members of that group to support the restoration of 100 per cent council tax relief for jobless householders in Harlow, including the reinstatement of the £16,000 savings limit.

Sad end of a professional and high quality advice service

SIR, It seems a great shame everyone in Harlow is a loser because of the lack of support towards Harlow Welfare Rights and Advice service by Harlow Council.

HWRA was a very professional service of high quality, too frequently needing to rectify wrong information (maybe provided in good faith, but nevertheless incorrect) given out by organisations including the council itself.

Could it be that a few within our council took a dislike to HWRA and decided to reduce funding?

Strangely, charities often seem to provide a better service than any governmental body which, after all, are merely spending other people's money.

A. Buckman address supplied

Councillor's letter contained no criticism of health centres trust

SIR, Harlow Health Centre's Trust chairman Martin Lawn criticised Cllr Tony Hall for his letter about the land-swap deal between HHCT and Harlow Council to allow the building of a new Lister House surgery (Letters, November 7).

Having checked Cllr Hall's original letter I can find no criticism of HHCT at all. He was criticising Labour councillors on Harlow Council for failing to declare an interest in voting on this matter because of the close relationship between Labour Party members who run HHCT and those who run Harlow Council.

Mr Lawn also protests that the £500,000 which HHCT gains from this deal does not come from tax paid to the council but from tax paid to the Government and held by the council. This comment typifies Labour's inability to appreciate that most taxpayers don't care which pot it comes from - it is all their money.

Labour's tax and spend heritage makes them oblivious to the need for openness and scrutiny about how they spend taxpayers' moneys.

Thanks to maternity team for their expertise and experience

SIR, I am writing this letter to thank the staff in the maternity unit at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Over the years they have received so much criticism so it is about time something positive was said.

My daughter was induced on Saturday, October 26 and gave birth to a beautiful baby girl at 1.49pm on Sunday. There were a few scary moments but the team on duty took quick control. I am sure that it was due to their expertise and experience that all turned out well.

Even though my daughter was scared and worried they took time to reassure her and told her exactly what to do and when to do it. This gave her confidence that everything was under control.

I would like to say again thank you to everyone that was involved, especially to trainee nurse Rebekah and the midwife Trisha. They do a wonderful work and need to be appreciated for it rather than criticised when things don't turn out well. Without them our whole family would not be enjoying the beautiful gift of our dear baby girl.

Every day with her is just wonderful.

Old Harlow fireworks display showed true community spirit

SIR, The November 5 fireworks in Harlow went off with a bang in Old Harlow thanks to Craig Mechan and Pete Cody and their helpers.

They organised a free community event behind The Crown public house which was well attended by many local families. They even provided some seasonal hot dogs and roast chestnuts for all.

Well done guys, that's true community spirit.

Mike Danvers Tunnamade, Harlow

Decision to build council homes is a small but important step

SIR, Dan Long says that Harlow houses "should be built for the sake of the people of Harlow and not for outsiders" (Letters, October 31).

Perhaps he is unaware that Harlow Council recently strengthened its local connection criteria, meaning that only people who have a connection with Harlow for over five years are eligible to join the housing needs register.

I do, however, welcome his reluctant support for the council's decision to build houses for the first time in many years - a small but important step towards meeting Harlow's housing needs.

Mr Long also seems a little confused about the responsibilities for children's centres. It is Essex County Council which is threatening to close them in Harlow, and to decimate the Essex Youth Service.

I and other elected Harlow councillors are running an active campaign to try and save these vital services.

Care home addresses failings highlighted in critical report

A CARE home in Harlow criticised by a Government watchdog for the standards of care provided to residents has avoided legal action after making improvements.

Back in July the Care Quality Commission published a damning report on the Partridge Care Centre following an unannounced inspection the previous month.

In their report the CQC inspectors said the centre in Partridge Road was "not compliant" with all national care standards assessed and gave operator Rushcliffe Care until August 23 to make the necessary improvements or face enforcement action.

The centre has now been reassessed and the CQC has confirmed the changes required under the warning notice had been made. However, the CQC said improvements were still needed in record-keeping procedures.

A CQC spokeswoman said: "We carried out an inspection on September 5 to check on compliance with a warning notice that we had issued following an inspection in May 2013.

"We found them compliant with the warning notice but non-compliant with regulation 20 (records).

"We will be re-inspecting soon to follow up on the outstanding non-compliance and the next report with the outcome of this will be published in due course."

New school to ease pressure for places

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

EDUCATION chiefs have unveiled plans to open a new primary school in Harlow and expand three others to meet the demand for places.

Essex County Council has started consultations on the future provision of primary school places in the town in response to a significant rise in numbers as a result of new housing, increasing birth rate births and families moving to Harlow.

Over the past 12 months officers have been working with schools to address the need for more primary places and have developed a set of proposals.

These include the expansion of three primary schools - The Downs, Longwood and Holy Cross Academy - from one form of entry to two on a permanent basis.

Additional buildings would increase capacity at all three schools to 420 places. Each school would admit 60 reception class pupils from September 2014.

There will also be a new 210-place primary school in buildings at Rivermill from 2015. This will be primarily funded through a 'Target Based Need' grant following a successful bid to the Department for Education.

Funding for the extra primary places has been made available from the five-year capital programme.

County councillor Ray Gooding, cabinet member with responsibility for education and lifelong learning, said: "Whilst the council is under

Pupils box up gifts for vulnerable children

HUNDREDS of gift-filled shoeboxes donated by Harlow schoolchildren will be winging their way to vulnerable children across the globe as part of a charity's annual Christmas project.

Youngsters in the reception to Year 5 classes at Saint Nicholas School, in Hobbs Cross Road, have spent the past few weeks filling the boxes full of toys and treats at home before taking them in to school.

Children in the middle and upper school have been making their own shoeboxes to send to the Elohim Orphanage in Africa.

A school spokeswoman said up to 80 shoeboxes had been collected.

"The children here are quite lucky and it makes them appreciate that others are not so lucky," she said.

huge financial pressures it is imperative we invest in Harlow primary schools to ensure we increase provision to meet the growing demand for school places.

"Primary provision in Harlow was increased by 110 places in 2012 and a further 15 places this year, but the majority of this was only temporary and utilising existing spare accommodation at a number of schools.

"We now must take action to address continued significant pressure on pupil places."

The consultation runs until December 4. People can take part online at www.surveymonkey.com/s/harlowprimaries2013, by emailing school.organisation@essex.gov.uk or writing to School Organisation Team, County Hall E2, Market Road, Chelmsford CM1 1QH.

Public drop-in sessions will be taking place from 2-4pm and 5-7pm at Longwood Primary School on Monday, at Holy Cross Academy on Tuesday and at The Downs Primary School on Thursday.

were forced to pay for expensive medicine to treat the ill.

"We have all experienced typhoons and we expect them, but nothing like this," she said.

The community is hoping to organise a concert or other charity event in the coming weeks to raise more money. A quiz night is also being organised by a former colleague of Mr Ducusin.

Among the items the community are appealing for are adult and children's clothing, soap, toothpaste and other sanitary products, rubber shoes, drinking water, sleeping materials and canned food.

PAH chief executive Melanie Walker said in an email to staff: "I am sure like me you have watched coverage of the Filipino typhoon disaster with a growing sense of horror and immense sympathy that nature can be so destructive and bring death and destruction to so many thousands of people.

"Our thoughts are with all those directly involved but, of course, particularly with our own contingent of Filipino staff who work so hard alongside us at the PAH.

"One member of staff, who has lost family, has returned home and we are ensuring all our Filipino staff, indeed anyone directly affected by the disaster, is given full and appropriate support.

"The UK Disasters Emergency Committee is now co-ordinating donations on behalf of 14 charities at www.dec.org.uk and gives details of the many ways we can make donations through the website, banks, post office or text."

The community have launched a Facebook page to co-ordinate their efforts. It can be found by searching for typhoon Yolanda.

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

VETERANS, civic dignitaries, parents and children stood shoulder to shoulder in silence on Sunday as Harlow joined the nation in honouring the men and women who have given their lives serving their country.

Several hundred people attended the Service of Remembrance at the Nettleswell Cross war memorial in Harlow Town Park.

Members of the Royal British Legion were joined by representatives of the Armed Forces, cadets, uniformed youth organisations and the St John Ambulance for a parade to the memorial in School Lane.

Once there they formed around the stone cross which bears the names of those who died during the two world wars.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council chair Linda Pailing were among those whose laid wreaths of poppies at the memorial.

Standards were lowered as The Last Post was played by Harlow Brass Band. This was followed by an immaculately observed two minutes silence.

Following the wreath laying ceremony, individuals step forward to place simple wooden crosses adorned with poppies dedicated to individual servicemen and women.

Rev Ernie Guest, who led the service, added: "It is a great honour to be here amongst you to remember on this special occasion those who have fallen, our loved ones who have not returned but also those of our friends who have returned who have come back injured.

"But for many of you here, you are here maybe because of a promise, that silent agreement that those who come back will remember those who do not. You are here to stand side by side here with each other to share in fellowship to remember those who you have fought alongside."

A poem, right, which had been written and handed to the British Legion by Burnt Mill Academy pupil David Woolcott, 12, was read aloud. Cllr Pailing said afterwards: "It was a very moving service and a fitting way to remember the service men and women who lost their lives in the two world wars and in more recent conflicts.

"It was also a time to think about those who have been seriously injured fighting for their country."

The men and women who fought for our nation
Those who allowed to make the next English generation

Every man and every woman who fought in the war will be remembered to this day to celebrate our freedom.

Those who made our country a brand new kingdom

Those who staggered from Flanders Fields and up on the giant hills lay dead in the meadows
And to this day they are remembered by the poppy rose.

So I wear a little poppy as proud as can be, to show that I remember those who fought for me.

David Woolcott
(aged 12)

Big turnout for League's Armistice Day service

WAR veterans paid their respects to those who made the ultimate sacrifice for their country at an Armistice Day parade at the Potter Street War Memorial.

The former servicemen were joined by local residents and the congregation of St Mary Magdalene Church for a short service organised by the League of Gentlemen 95 at the memorial on Harlow Common before heading back to the church for refreshments.

Members of a military re-enactment group formed a guard of honour throughout the service.

Hymns were sung before those present, including Harlow councillor

Joshua Jolles, observed the traditional two-minute silence at 11am.

League of Gentlemen 95 chairman Albert Hobbell said: "It was a really good service and more than 100 people attended."

Mum Sara proud to be trustee for 'amazing' charity

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MOTHER inspired by the support a charity has given her family that she has become a trustee of the organisation.

Sara Evans' middle daughter was born eight weeks prematurely and suffered complications during her birth resulting in longer and more regular hospital stays.

The mother-of-three said: "Evie has Downs Syndrome and was born eight weeks prematurely. She suffered some complications at birth not because of having Downs Syndrome but because of being born early."

"She ended up on Dolphin Ward and in and out of hospital for quite a long time."

Evie, who is now three and goes to Churchgate Nursery, spent six months in PAH's Dolphin Ward and it was during her daughter's time at the hospital that Sara was able to find out more about Kisses4Kids.

"I had seen adverts for Kisses4Kids but didn't know much about the charity," Sara added. "I spoke to a specialist in the hospital and they said that the charity had provided all the toys in the A&E department and Dolphin Ward.

"They also helped set up a teenage getaway and they set up an outside play area service for the younger children to have somewhere to play when they are on the ward for a long time."

The charity, which was set up by Stacey Johnson soon after she was diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumour in 2006, contacted Sara to arrange a family day out.

The 42-year-old said: "The day out was lovely and just what we needed. Kisses4Kids help children and families who are going through tough times and spending a lot of time in hospital.

"It's an amazing charity and they do so much for places like PAH. Stacey is an incredible person and I'm very proud to be a trustee and to be able to be involved, especially knowing how difficult it can be."

"Evie is an amazing girl and doing really well now, seeing how the charity helped us, inspired me to be a part of it all and help other people."

To find out more about Kisses4Kids visit the website at www.kisses4kids.org.uk.

Charity night at dogs stadium

A FUNDRAISER has been inspired to take on a huge challenge for Marie Curie Cancer Care after friends and family have suffered with the disease.

Charlotte Riley, 29, of Bishop's Stortford will be trekking the Grand Canyon in May next year and hopes to raise £3,500 for the charity.

To help her meet her fundraising target the teacher will be hosting a charity night at Harlow Stadium on Saturday (November 16) at 7pm, with all the proceeds from ticket sales going towards MCCC.

Tickets cost £6 for adults and £1.50 for children and can be bought on the door or email raisingfundsmariecurie@gmail.com.

To sponsor Charlotte on her Grand Canyon trek visit www.justgiving.com/Charlotte-RileyGrandcanyon.

Abbiegail's quiz raises £400

A YOUNG girl who decided to host a quiz instead of holding a birthday party raised £400 for charity.

Hare Street Primary school pupil Abbiegail Jackson, 10, of Hare Street Springs, Harlow, held the quiz for mental health charity Mind as her mum suffers from depression and her half-brother has autism.

Proud mum Judith, 33, said: "A very big well done to my special little girl Abbie. Her first fundraiser and she raised a whopping £400 for Mind."

"I am so proud of her. She has worked really hard and is looking forward to holding more events."

Hospice launches its Santa-stic fun run

WITH Christmas just around the corner, St Clare Hospice is getting into the festive spirit early with the launch of its annual Santa Fun Run.

Organisers are hoping to persuade hundreds of people to don Santa's red suit for the 4k run or walk which will be starting at Harlow Leisurezone on Sunday, December 8.

Hospice mascot Clare the Bear met up with Harlow Leisurezone's Rocky the Rhino for the launch.

St Clare fundraiser Grace Malek said: "Taking part in our family-friendly Santa Run is the perfect way to start the Christmas celebrations and support the hospice at this time of year.

"It's great fun for all ages and it's quite a sight seeing all the runners heading off wearing their Santa suits, hats and beards. There's always a great atmosphere and it's just the thing to get the whole family into the festive spirit."

Registration costs £15 per adult and includes a free Santa suit, £5 for children which includes a free Santa hat or £37.50 for a family. For more information, or to enter, see www.stclarehospice.org.uk, email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk or call (01279) 773750.

MP receives 'campaigner' award from BoJo

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has been named the Spectator magazine's MP Campaigner of the Year at its 27th Parliamentarian of the Year awards.

The title was primarily awarded for Mr Halfon's work to freeze fuel duty and his successful campaign to secure free school meals for disadvantaged students at further education colleges, such as Harlow College.

The ceremony was held at the Savoy Hotel in London.

According to the Spectator, the awards, which were presented by London mayor and former editor Boris Johnson, were presented to those who had "fought the good fight".

Mr Halfon said: "I was honoured to win the award."

Flats to be built at busy junction

A DEVELOPMENT of 102 flats at one of the busiest entrances to Harlow has been approved despite objections from nearby residents.

Plans for a seven-story development at the Motorsales dealership on the Burnt Mill Industrial Estate were approved six votes to two by Harlow Council's development management committee last week.

The development will be made up of one, two and three-bedroom properties with underground parking.

The existing showroom and dealership buildings will be demolished and replaced, with the flats being constructed above.

Several letters of objection were received from residents living in Rivermill who say the development would add to the already-unbearable traffic problems in the area.

Many also objected to the

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

height of the building, which they say will obscure the views of the countryside. There were also concerns over the lack of a crossing on Elizabeth Way.

Crouch Court resident Ian Watkins said: "It's too high and too close to pre-existing homes. A development of this nature can only have a detrimental effect on the lives of existing residents."

Harlow Civic Society member John Curry said: "It's about the people and the places they live. All the application does is tick 102 boxes on a spreadsheet somewhere in this building."

Councillor Michael Garnett (Conservative) said: "My heart says no but I've got to follow the planning rules."

He raised concerns over how residents would access the town centre and Sainsbury's on foot safely.

"They've got to walk around five lanes of traffic. I think that's a serious problem."

Cllr Jean Clark (Labour) said: "It's isolated from the main life in Rivermill and other areas. It's like a little island and it's totally inappropriate for a block of flats."

She added: "We do have to consider the residents who are going to live in this development and the dangers we're effectively placing them in"

Cllr Tony Hall (Conservative) said: "I don't see any problem living above a garage. We're short of land for people to live on and I think this fits the bill."

Councillors agreed to approve the application while asking for a discussion to be held over the possibility of a crossing at Elizabeth Way.

Deadline approaches for primary school places

ESSEX County Council is encouraging families to apply for primary school places for September 2014.

Parents and carers of children born between September 1, 2009 and August 31, 2010 must apply by January 15, 2014 for primary school places for the September 2014 intake. All reception aged children are entitled to start school in the September following their fourth birthday.

Applications can be made via the website at www.essex.gov.uk/admissions. The site enables parents to search for the school information, read Ofsted reports, check admissions criteria and catchment areas and submit applications.

Essex County Councillor Ray Gooding, cabinet member with responsibility for education and lifelong learning, said: "Applying for the right primary schools for your child is an important decision and I would urge parents to use the tools available on our website to ensure they make an informed application."

HarlowStar BUSINESS EXCELLENCE AWARDS 2013

Night to celebrate the best of business

IT was a night to celebrate excellence. And by the end of the evening the cream of Harlow's business community judged the first Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards a resounding success.

More than 200 people - including Harlow MP Robert Halfon, local councillors and business leaders - attended Thursday's glittering presentation ceremony at the Manor of Grove Hotel in High Wych.

After a champagne reception the guests were welcomed by Mike Richardson, managing director of Star publisher Herts & Essex Newspapers Ltd, who said the finalists reflected not only the breadth and depth of entrepreneurial flair but also demonstrated the vibrancy of business activity in the Harlow area.

He then introduced guest speaker Vic Goddard, principal of Passmores Academy in Harlow.

In his inspirational address, Mr Goddard spoke about the role of schools in educating youngsters to take the next step into the business world.

The presentation of the awards in the eight separate categories followed a three-course meal. Mr Goddard read out the names of the finalists before a short video presentation for each of the finalists was relayed onto a large video screen.

Mr Goddard then announced the result and representatives of the winners were invited on to the stage to receive their trophy from the category sponsors.

A surprise ninth category - the Judges' Special Award - was also presented.

Mr Richardson concluded the proceedings with a closing speech in which he thanked the organisers, the sponsors, the judges and all the finalists.

"It was a brilliantly executed evening," he said. "I enjoyed it immensely and thought the choice of speaker was amazing. What an inspirational character."

Mr Halfon said: "The awards were the evening of the year. I commend the Star for putting on this fantastic event."

Star editor Ken Morley said: "There were no losers; all the finalists were winners in one way or another."

"It was an excellent evening and a fitting way to celebrate the achievements and successes of Harlow's business community."

Church is one of the UK's best

GEMMA GARDNER

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHURCH in Harlow has been named one of the UK's best modern buildings of worship in an architecture competition.

St Paul's, in College Place, was named joint tenth at the competition organised by the National Churches Trust.

The Grade-II listed building was built in 1959 and designed by Derrick Humphrys & Hurst.

One very early visitor to the church, in October 1957, was Queen Elizabeth II along with Prince Philip, who planted two trees on, what was intended to be an ornamental paved terrace faced by an open-air pulpit projecting from the belltower.

It was during this visit, at which the church was not more than a concrete base that the final design was unveiled as the Queen was shown the architect's model of the church.

The church, which seats 400 and cost 40,000 pounds to build, was opened for worship on St Paul's Eve in January 1959 by the Archbishop-elect of Sidney, the Bishop of Barking, and was consecrated in April 1959 by the Bishop of Chelmsford

The competition was part of the trust's 60th anniversary celebrations and was held in association with the Ecclesiastical Architects and Surveyors Association and the 20th Century Society.

More than 200 churches were nominated for the awards by the public, parishes and architects.

The awards were open to church buildings or extensions to existing buildings from Christian denominations in the UK which opened after January 1953.

Sherry Bates, president of the Ecclesiastical Architects and Surveyors Association, said: "The judges sought uplifting architecture that celebrated Christianity and church buildings that best responded to changes in religious liturgy and practice."

Luke March, chairman of the National Churches Trust, said: "As a nation we are rightly proud of our magnificent heritage of historic churches."

"But there are also many exciting churches which have been built in the last 60 years designed for the changing nature of religious liturgy and practice and reflecting modern architecture and design."

'Green' taxes are forcing up our energy bills

As regular readers will know, since being elected as Harlow's MP in 2010 I have campaigned hard for cheaper fuel. This is important as high petrol prices push up the cost of not just motoring, but also food and public transport.

Recently there has been some good news. The Government has announced a freeze in fuel duty until 2015 which means that, in tax terms, petrol will be 20p cheaper per litre by 2015.

Although I have strongly criticised oil companies for keeping prices high at the pumps, at least some supermarkets have been cutting the cost of motoring. The cost of travel was 1.5 per cent lower in October than in September.

We also need tough action on energy companies. It is wrong that some energy companies are putting up prices by as much as 10 per cent.

The average energy bill now costs families around £1,400. The Government has made some changes to help people who are struggling - for example, they have extended Cold Weather Payments to over four million households and increased how much these are worth - but we must do more.

Although seductive, forced price freezes are not a simple answer. As has happened already, companies are putting their prices up in advance of any freeze.

Moreover, they would also put their prices up again after any freeze. They also wouldn't invest in any infrastructure, which we badly need if we are to keep our homes warm and not suffer energy blackouts.

But just because a freeze isn't the right answer, it doesn't mean that there aren't any solutions to lowering our bills. I am campaigning hard in Parliament to remove VAT from energy bills, which would save

By Robert Halfon
MP for Harlow

every Harlow household around £65.

EU law makes this difficult so it is vital that we get a change in European law. It is why it is right that David Cameron has pledged a referendum on whether we stay in the EU.

The Government can also cut energy bills by reducing all the green taxes imposed on all of us by the last Labour government. Amazingly, these green taxes add around 17 per cent to our energy bills. Getting rid of these green taxes will lower our energy costs and make a real difference to hard working families.

In Parliament I have also been calling for a windfall tax on energy companies which pay their directors big bonuses yet continue to push up prices.

The money raised from a windfall tax should be used to lower prices for consumers.

Although I persuaded Harlow Council to save the Harlow Homework Club last year, it looked like it might be cut early next year.

After speaking to Essex County Council, we have secured funding for the club, at least until April 2015. This is great news for the club and I would particularly like to thank Julie Allen who runs it, Cllr Jowers and the county council who have done everything possible to save it.

I strongly believe we need to protect youth services in Harlow. I pay tribute to all the youth organisations, the youth council and particularly the youth workers who do so much for our young people.

I was glad to organise a meeting with ECC and youth organisations across Harlow. I recently met with the youth minister in Parliament and he has agreed to meet with ECC to try to help.

I will do all I can to protect youth services; if you have any comments you would like me to pass on to ECC please email me.

Since I have been in Parliament I have employed three Harlow College apprentices in my office as I wanted to give Harlow youngsters every opportunity to succeed.

This was the first time an apprentice has ever been employed full time in the House of Commons by any MP. For this reason I was delighted that my third apprentice, Aaron Farrell, won the joint Apprentice of the Year award at the Harlow Star Business Excellence Awards.

I pay tribute to Aaron, to the Star and to Harlow and District Chamber of Commerce for showcasing the very best of Harlow businesses and our very best apprentices.

It is no accident that Harlow has the highest business growth in the United Kingdom.

Postie helped himself to items for delivery

COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A LIGHT-fingered postman stole various items from packages he was supposed to deliver in Harlow, a court was told.

Barry Fitzgerald, 53, of Bromley Close, Harlow, also damaged a depot door which he kicked when he was approached by a Royal Mail investigator.

Fitzgerald appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court last Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to five charges of theft and criminal damage. Sentence was adjourned until November 27 for the preparation of a pre-sentence report.

He admitted damaging a glass panel worth £200 on August 28 and stealing a postal packet, a recorded delivery packet, 67 energy saving light bulbs and opening six postal packets containing DVDs.

Kim Elcoat-May, prosecuting, told the court that in August the defendant's estranged wife informed Royal Mail he had left her address at Hornbeams, leaving behind his employer's property.

"An investigator attended and some property, including the lightbulbs was found," said the prosecutor.

"Later, as he was approached by

Repair work on mill lock gates to cost £20k

MORE than £20,000 is to be spent essential maintenance works at Parndon Mill Lock on the River Stort Navigation in Harlow.

The four-week project, which started yesterday (Wednesday) will involve replacing rubber seals to prevent water leaking between the giant lock gates.

Before the start of work on the lock, which dates back to 1766, fish were relocated to allow a stretch of the river to be drained.

the investigator at the depo, he walked away and kicked the glass panel which was damaged."

Fitzgerald was arrested and taken to Harlow Police Station where he was questioned and admitted taking a Lovefilm postal packet containing two DVDs, a greetings card and cheque, a signed book and the light bulbs.

He said he opened the Lovefilm packet to watch the DVDs before returning them.

Ms Elcoat-May said he also admitted he had a drink problem.

Fitzgerald was released in unconditional bail.

Project manager Tony Sims, senior waterway engineer for the Canal & River Trust, said: "Every year thousands of people visit the River Stort Navigation without ever seeing all the hard work that goes on behind the scenes to keep this historic waterway open."

"By showcasing the work we're doing at Parndon Mill Lock we hope more people will be inspired to come and enjoy the river, get involved and help support the hard work that goes on to look after it."

Russia sends 2014 Winter Olympic torch into space

AN Olympic torch has been blasted into space as part of Russia's preparations for the Winter Olympic Games in Sochi next year.

A Soyuz rocket is delivering the torch to the International Space Station.

It blasted off at 4.14am last Thursday from the Baikonur cosmodrome in Kazakhstan.

Three cosmonauts - Russia's Mikhail Tyurin, American Rick Mastracchio and Koichi Wakata from Japan - are taking the torch to the ISS.

They'll be handing over the torch to fellow cosmonauts Oleg Kotov and Sergei Ryazansky, who are already on the orbiting station, then they go on a spacewalk on Saturday.

The torch has been carried into space twice before - in 1996 and 2000 - but it has never left a spaceship.

It will not be lit aboard the space station as this would consume oxygen.

The Sochi torch will then be returned to Earth and used to light the Olympic cauldron in February next year.

Young writers have a story to tell

BURNT MILL ACADEMY

Talented writers have achieved something many aspiring authors dream of and will see their works published in a book.

Years 7, 8 and 9 students at the First Avenue school will have their work published in A Twist in the Tale after writing 100-word tales with a twist in the storyline.

English teacher Saoirse Faughnan, said: "We had a huge amount of students who had their work selected to appear in the book. They had to get their literacy perfect to be considered."

"I am so proud of all 50 students; this is such an amazing achievement. They were so excited and said they were going to run home to tell their families.

"The orders are already coming in from them for their copies of the book. Their efforts have really paid off and they will have the book as a lasting reminder of their achievement."

The book is due to be published next month and will be available in the British Library and across the UK.

Hats off to police for nursery visit

BLOSSOMS NURSERY Children and staff at the Thornwood Common pre-school welcomed some very special visitors as part of a project about the work of the emergency services.

Police officers from Ongar dropped in and allowed the youngsters to sit in their car and try on their hats.

Nursery manager Bobbi Chana said: "The children loved learning about emergency services, wearing the police uniform and sitting inside the police car pressing on all the sirens.

"They asked lots of questions about being a police officer and if they had to do a lot of running. Our little ones especially had lots of fun trying on the police hats."

Fun-filled day at kids' jolly-day club

JOLLY PODS Youngsters from Harlow spent the day at Jolly Pods holiday club taking part in arts and crafts activities and team-building games and were treated to a performance by Phoenix Theatre School.

The Jolly Pods team - made up of teachers and friends Jeannine Dooley, Carly O'Neill, Rebecca Nunn, Nicole Thong and Faye Linden - held the fun day during half term.

"We held the fun day, which was a great success, to give parents a break and a shopping day for any early Christmas gifts while the children are busy having fun," Jeannine said.

"The children has a really fun-filled time and made lots of new friends as the day was open to Harlow children and those from surrounding areas."

In & Around HARLOW

Unrivalled reputation for first class service and customer satisfaction

ESTABLISHED in 1996 by Stuart Dingle from a unit on Harlow Common, Airdrome Cars has built up a reputation for first class service and customer satisfaction.

The company has grown but today it still has the same unrivalled reputation for quality and care.

Stuart started the company after leaving the Darlington's dealership in Harlow where he had worked for 10 years. In 2009 the business moved to larger premises at the picturesque setting of Tile Gate in High Laver, near Harlow.

With his many years of experience at Darlington's, Stuart specialises in Renault vehicles and was recently joined by a former Darlington's colleague, Mick, who is a specialist in Honda and Skoda vehicles.

As well as Renault, Honda and Skoda vehicles, Airdrome also deals with all makes and models and will carry out servicing, clutch kits, timing belt kits, all repairs, MOTs and fault diagnostics.

With their trustworthy reputation, Stuart and Mick pride themselves on offering good customer service and set themselves apart from the competition by offering a more personal touch to customers.

One way they do this is by giving a free collection and delivery service which sees many happy customers coming back time and again. They now have a large client base and some customers have been with Airdrome over the past 17 years.

Why not give Airdrome a call and try them for yourself? They have a name you can trust and offer a friendly, reliable and convenient service.

Their services extend through Harlow, Sheering, Ongar, North Weald and Sawbridgeworth – with their pick-up service available from any of these locations either from your home or place of work.

Christmas Parties

Have you booked for the festive season?

BEFORE you decide on a venue for your Christmas party this year, take the time to find out what is important to your guests. It may sound simple but things like a live band, seated or buffet service, cocktails etc might make or break your festive fun.

When you know, you can plan accordingly. Make sure you have a list of possible dates when everyone – including all the senior staff – can attend and that they don't conflict with other company commitments.

Many companies use this opportunity for the company leaders to address the staff and/or hand out annual achievement awards. This will add further value to the event as it is a rare opportunity to speak to the whole company.

One idea is to book into a fully-produced night at a venue. This will deliver a high standard of lighting and decoration at a fraction of the bespoke price and allow you to retain catering and entertainment content within a tight budget.

Be prepared to take a Monday/Tuesday which can cost you 20 per cent less than a prime date. You can also get better prices per head if you book close to maximum numbers, so find a venue that is the right size for your party.

Make sure the basics are right – a good first impression followed by good food, well-served and a great DJ/dance floor can be all you need. Everything else is non-essential to a great party and should be viewed as optional extras or unnecessary if you are on a tight budget.

Times are tough and most guests won't mind if the extras you had last year are not affordable this time. In fact they respect a company for being careful in tougher times but don't be a total Scrooge. Many staff view cancelling the Christmas party as the last straw...

Panto stars are counting down to opening night

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CHILDREN'S television star Rebecca Keatley will be off to seek her fortune when she appears as Dick Whittington in this year's Harlow Playhouse panto.

The timeless tale of the young man who went to London to seek his fortune, is set to light up the theatre with magic and mischief during its month-long run which starts on Friday, December 6.

Rebecca, who appears in CBeebies' Let's Play, will be joined on stage by Jen Pringle - presenter of Channel 5's milkshake! - as the magical Fairy of the Bells.

The show will feature 18 theatre professionals alongside 24 of the best young talent from the area.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay said: "We pride ourselves on telling a strong story, adding new twists and turns that entertain and surprise in equal measure.

"The traditional panto approach is to shipwreck Dick in Morocco after suffering a maritime storm. With the upcoming World Cup in Brazil and the Olympics, we've spiced up the story with a thrilling Pirates of the Caribbean-inspired sequence, landing Dick on the beaches of Rio de Janeiro during the exciting carnival."

Rebecca said: "Dick Whittington is one of the few pantos to be inspired by an English story. What's lovely for audiences is the historical link between the real person and this part of the UK. It's really exciting to be playing the part here."

Jen added: "We've great surprises in store, even for those who think they know the story. For example, my character magically transforms one of her fairies into a cat, and, having secured a third-generation Russian circus aerialist to play Dick's feline companion for the production, unexpected thrills are guaranteed along the way."

Clr Jean Clark, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and wellbeing, added: "With our panto becoming more and more popular we continue to present bigger and better shows every year. We're delighted to be bringing another sensational show to Harlow."

>>> Dick Whittington opens on Friday December 6 and runs until Sunday, January 5. Ticket prices range from £9-£22 and are available from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouse.harlow.com.

EIGHTIES pop star Paul Young brings his band Los Pacaminos to The Square on Saturday.

The British Tex-Mex band will be performing at Fourth Avenue venue from 8pm.

Formed by Paul in 1993, as an antidote to the gloomy English winter, the band was a group of friends getting together in their spare time for fun, sharing their passion of playing, Americana/Tex-Mex music when not touring or dealing with professional commitments.

Tex-Mex music is somewhere between the Mariachi and Norteno styles of Mexico and the country/blues sounds of south-west America. Spanish songs and original material that make up the music of Los Pacaminos.

>>> Los Pacaminos will perform at The Square on Saturday at 8pm. Tickets cost £13; over 16s only.

Talented ballet dancers put on an inspiring Gala show performance

TWELVE-year-old Millie Smith received the Antony Osborne Shield for the best choreography in Harlow Ballet Association's Autumn Gala for her work New Hope, performed to music by John Williams.

The competition was the first part of the programme where seven young choreographers got a rare chance to hone their existing skills and develop new ones.

They ranged in age from nine to 17.

As Michael Branwell, artistic director of the HBA, was at pains to point out to the full house: "If you want to be an artist you buy a paint box. If you want to be a writer you get a note pad and pencil. But being a choreographer is a much more difficult process.

"Musical flair and artistic ability are no use unless you have a competent dance troupe able to follow your dreams."

REVIEW

Autumn Gala

Harlow Ballet Association
Harlow Playhouse

The HBA can certainly supply the dancers. They were all there, from the smallest enchanting moppets as baby ducklings to the highly talented Emily Bird in pointe shoes in an extract from Esmeralda.

No ballet technique seemed beyond their reach; pirouettes, arabesques, enchainements sur les pointes - you name it and they were up for it.

I was especially impressed with the pas-de-deux work. William Smith is a name to remember, not just for his excellent work as a choreographer on Dreams but as a possible successor to Hamish Scott, who is now in professional training.

The second half of the programme was a delightful new concept, the brainchild of Chris Redman who provided the live music. This was a follow on from the success of Fauré's Requiem last year.

He exposed the dancers to classical music which they may not have come across before. They chose their music from Ravel, Debussy and Granados and, with the help of Mr Redman, let the music inspire the movements of the dancers.

Hopefully this can be repeated at some future date.

There were far too many talented dancers to single out any one for praise. And although the pieces were necessarily short, I especially liked Ella Ponponne's Lost Love in the Choreographic Competition and Beating Wings in the Concerto Project.

Tiptoe through the tulips

GARDENING TIPS by Hannah Stephenson

YOU have probably planted most of your spring bulbs by now, but it's not too late to add tulips to the mix, ready to create a riot of colour next season.

With this in mind, Consumers' Association magazine Which? Gardening has been scouring the country to ask head gardeners exactly how they achieve their show-stopping tulip displays.

In RHS Garden Harlow Carr in Harrogate, North Yorkshire, they use a sizzling combination of Tulipa 'Ballerina' (orange), 'Queen of Night' (dark purple) and 'Jan Reus' (dark red).

Garden manager Alison Goding explains: "The Triumph tulip 'Jan Reus' starts flowering in April and is 50cm high, while 'Queen of Night' and 'Ballerina' flower in May and are 60cm high, so the overall display has more depth and lasts a bit longer."

The tulips are in a raised bed filled with topsoil, mixed with garden compost and grit to improve drainage and bulbs are planted at a depth of three to four times the size of the bulb, 15cm apart.

A cooler theme is adopted at the Dorothy Clive Garden in Market Drayton, Shropshire (www.dorothyclivegarden.co.uk), combining white tulips 'Purissima' with masses of soft blue forget-me-nots and Allium 'Purple Sensation', which appear in late spring.

Margaret Barry, deputy curator of the garden, says: "This 'cool' theme is pleasing on the eye due to the limited tones of colour.

"The varying textures also make this display appealing: a fluffy carpet of forget-me-nots punctuated by strong, linear stems supporting symmetrical blooms."

The gardeners change the bed every year and in spring 2014 will be offering a vibrant display of 'Purple Flag', 'Christmas Orange' and 'Christmas Marvel' (cerise pink), with an underplanting of deep-blue 'Sylvia' forget-me-nots, which don't tend to self-seed as much as other varieties.

If you want ideas for stunning pots of tulips, look no further than Rousham in Oxfordshire (www.rousham.org), where you can see amazing displays of majestic purple tulips, interspersed with pots of white ones. Varieties include 'Jackpot' (purple with white edge), 'Snowstar' (white), 'Ronaldo' (stocky purple-red), 'Havran' (tall dark purple) and 'Ballade' (pink with white edge).

Head gardener Ann Starling says: "I started

ON THE WEB
Gardening tips and news

www.harlowstar.co.uk

with purple varieties then added others. I first staged the tulips in pots like this about eight years ago. I repeat it each year because it works, and purple is a different colour for spring.

"We empty the pots of their summer plantings then fill them with 15-25 bulbs each. The pots are sometimes put into coldframes in cold weather. If you do shelter planted-up pots in this way be careful, as you have to water them."

Square containers work as well as round pots for tulip displays, as visitors to Easton Ruston Old Vicarage in Norfolk (www.e-ruston-oldvicaragegardens.co.uk) will find. Plant the bulbs in rows, as close as possible without the bulbs touching.

Mixed Rembrandt tulips – so called because they have similar markings to the tulips painted by the Dutch Old Masters – are planted in layers with tulip 'Zurel' and 'Flaming Spring Green' to make a refreshing combination.

There are many options, but grey-coloured containers are a good choice for pale tulip combinations. Generally, the larger the better but if fibreglass faux lead is beyond your budget, consider the less expensive fibrecray instead.

● The full report on tulips is available in the November issue of Which? Gardening magazine.

TARGETS: Michael Fassbender and Javier Bardem star in THE COUNSELLOR

Drug deal crime thriller is style over substance

THE COUNSELLOR
certificate 18, 1h57m

AUDIENCES may find themselves in need of counselling sessions after two hours of twisted desire and treachery in Ridley Scott's erotically charged crime thriller.

In the film's most memorable scene - and not necessarily for the right reasons - Cameron Diaz removes her underwear, mounts the bonnet of her boyfriend's convertible and energetically performs a gymnastic feat across the windscreen that would surely be better served by a sponge or chamois leather.

Her all-guns-blazing portrayal is accompanied by terrific performances from Michael Fassbender and Penelope Cruz but all three are let down though by an overly complicated and wordy script which isn't remotely interested in the protagonists' emotional turmoil, just their suffering.

Fassbender plays the nameless counsellor, whose girlfriend Laura (Cruz) tearfully accepts his marriage proposal. "I intend to love you until I die," he gushes.

But that may be sooner than Laura thinks because he has invested his fortune in a drug trafficking operation across the Texas-Mexico border. Inevitably, the deal goes bad and the counsellor is marked for death along with two associates from the criminal underworld - floral-shirted playboy Reiner (Javier Bardem) and swaggering cowboy Westray (Brad Pitt).

While Westray jets off to London, Reiner is distracted by his gold-toothed girlfriend Malkina (Diaz), who owns two pet cheetahs.

The Counsellor looks glorious courtesy of Scott's impeccable visuals, but all of that style means nothing when we can't forge an emotional bond to the characters as they wallow through the mire.

Fassbender wrings himself dry of tears while Cruz is luminous as she provides sweetness and light to counterbalance Diaz's slinky predator. But dialogue is sodden with dense philosophical musings on the fragility of life that don't sound like anything normal people would say to one another.

And when one doomed player takes an inordinate amount of time explaining the intricacies of a motorised device that tightens around the neck of a victim, we know it's only a matter of time before Scott realises this grisly vision in blood-drenched close-up.

To that end, he doesn't disappoint.

THE HUNGER GAMES: CATCHING FIRE
certificate 12A, 2h26m
(midnight screening next Wednesday)

A change of rules leads to an even deadlier death match in this blazing sequel to the global blockbuster.

At the end of the first film Katniss Everdeen (Jennifer Lawrence, pictured above) made a suicide pact with Peeta Mellark (Josh Hutcherson), forcing President Snow (Donald Sutherland) to back down.

Now Snow is determined to regain the upper hand. Since Katniss has become a beacon of hope to the impoverished people of District 12, he begins by deviously manipulating public opinion against her.

But he then realises that other winners pose a similar threat in their own districts. So when the 75th annual Hunger Games are announced, there's a rule change to make this the most brutal fight to the death ever!

Only previous victors can compete, which means Katniss's ordeal has only just begun.

Aries 21 March - 20 April

The week ahead gets off to a great start, as a Mars Jupiter link may entice you to take action concerning a lifestyle or domestic plan. Change habits, rearrange your home and get organized so that you can get results. Later, as the Sun swings into Sagittarius, you may feel like opting for an exotic getaway interwoven with a fun adventure. Call now for more news and advice...

Taurus 21 April - 21 May

Acting on a hunch or intuition concerning a work-related issue may bring you an opportunity that's worth investigating. Don't delay, take advantage of anything that shows up and feels right to you, especially if you've been considering a few changes. A Venus Saturn link suggests taking practical steps to expand relationship potential. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Gemini 22 May - 21 June

If you feel like purchasing items for the home, look out for bargains, as you may get something that perfectly meets your needs. Later, as the Sun enters your relationship zone, you might want to consider travel plans with a friend, partner or love interest. A chance to get away may do you the world of good - quite literally! Call your prediction line for your financial scope in full...

Cancer 22 June - 23 July

Romance may be a hot topic, along with creative opportunities that may connect you with someone who shares your passion for a certain hobby or craft. As Mercury links with Pluto, you might gain support from a key person who can be an inspiration. Later, you may get a fresh perspective on work and wellness matters. Call me now for your love scope in full...

Leo 24 July - 23 August

The intense quality of life on the home front may begin to dissipate as the Sun eases its way into your romance and creativity zone. Although there may be issues to deal with, you can feel a sense of relief. It's an opportunity to take a break, and to consider ways to kick back, have fun and generally enjoy yourself - whenever you have time. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo 24 - 23 September

A Mars Jupiter connection may coincide with a chance to work together with a friend or associate on a plan or project. This may be one to take up, as it could expand your options later. The Sun brings a ray of light into your home zone, making this a great time to get your place fixed up and ready for a fun-filled festive season. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Libra 24 Sep - 23 Oct

An intuitive hunch may help you to make the most of a career opportunity. If you feel excited about getting involved, this could be an encouraging sign. Getting your budget sorted for the coming festive season might highlight a few possibilities you hadn't considered. Hearing from an old friend may be another happy event you'll really enjoy. Call for more news and advice...

Scorpio 24 Oct - 22 Nov

You may get encouragement to pick up on an idea that you'd considered and dropped. It might be down to a friend to give you that much needed push. Later, a Mercury Pluto influence might inspire some deep thought about an issue, goading you into making a timely decision. It may also enhance your chances of a positive outcome. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius 23 Nov - 22 Dec

You may be motivated to take action on key issues, such as finances and career matters, as lively influences might make doing nothing unbearable. If you've been procrastinating, you may notice a desire to forge ahead. As the Sun hikes into your sign, it's certainly time to get on with any personal projects that have been on the backburner. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn 22 Dec - 20 Jan

A Mars Jupiter connection might encourage you to expand your horizons. Getting friends involved in your plans may be the necessary catalyst for a good start. Later, as the Sun moves into Sagittarius, you'll enter a natural phase in which you might want to take periodic opportunities to rest and recharge whenever you need to. Call for more news and advice...

Aquarius 21 Jan - 19 Feb

A chance to do a deal may leave you on a high, especially if you can earn some extra cash at the same time. Aspects of the week ahead could be quite intense, but there are also opportunities to move the goalposts and make some key decisions. As the Sun moves into Sagittarius, your social zone lights up, highlighting potential fun times ahead. Call now for more news and advice...

Pisces 20 Feb - 20 Mar

You may feel like a coiled spring, as potent forces encourage you to explore new options and snap up opportunities before they vanish forever. Perhaps you'll be more willing to bask in the limelight and to consider the possibility of success while doing whatever you love to do. This isn't the time to be modest, but to succeed on your own terms. Call for more astral advice...

Extended five-bed detached in delightful village location coverpropertyLocation Sheering Road, Hatfield HeathCategory Five-bedroom detachedAdditional Mature gardens, three bathrooms, conservatory, garden roomPrice £749,995Agent Howick & Brooker, Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 418888

BROADVIEW in Hatfield Heath was originally built in the 1930s but an extensive enlargement was commissioned in the 1990s which added two large bedrooms on the first floor.

There is still plenty of opportunity to add to this delightful home further, such as the possibility of converting the left side of the property into a stand-alone annexe.

The house is situated in Sheering Road and sits in a delightful plot of almost an acre, with mature gardens containing a variety of trees, hedgerows, a small orchard and a vast expanse of lawn.

There are also various outbuildings including a double and single garage.

On the ground floor of the house there is a good size entrance hall, large lounge, dining room, conservatory and garden room. The kitchen is also a good size.

Also on the ground floor are two bathrooms, a separate cloakroom and three bedrooms. On the first floor is another bathroom and a further two bedrooms.

The village of Hatfield Heath is well known for its good facilities which include a shop, post office, surgery and various pubs and restaurants. One of the area's most popular junior schools is on the Heath.

Sawbridgeworth, Harlow, Old Harlow and Bishop's Stortford are easy to get to with their main line rail stations.

For full details of this property or to arrange a viewing, contact selling agents Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

CHATting with a London estate agent this week, it was hard to believe he was talking about the UK property market when he mentioned back-to-back viewings, multiple offers and even gazumping.

It may be true that London is in its own property bubble but the real estate rises he was talking about seemed from another time.

Of course he wasn't complaining. Like many of his contemporaries he is making hay while the sun shines. But he has been in the business several years and has seen property cycles come and go and with it steep rises and falls in prices.

He said he believed it takes two or three years to learn 90 per cent of his job and the rest of your life to learn the remaining 10 per cent. But it is that remaining 10 per cent that marks out an experienced agent.

Every property, owner and buyer is different. Even if a flat has just sold in a building or a house in a terraced row it does not mean the exact same result will be achieved for an identical one.

The second transaction will have a different buyer and seller who will both have a different agenda and, therefore, the situation will be entirely different. The passage of time, no matter how short, will also alter the equation.

A good estate agent is worth getting on side. Websites such as Rightmove or Zoopla might be a good starting point when it comes to looking for a new home but they can't work for you like an agent who knows their market – and your requirements.

Choosing an effective and good quality estate agent who can manage the buying and selling process on your behalf brings a range of benefits, not least of all ensuring it reaches a smooth conclusion.

Viewing Time

Most property vendors will recognise the tremendous importance of ensuring that as many prospective buyers as possible see their property. After all, more viewings means more buyer competition thereby maximising your chances of securing the highest price the market will pay.

However, whilst one always has to be fair, there is a lot to be said for strategic viewing! Good agents will advise their clients to be selective when arranging a time for prospective purchasers to view their home. After all, only the person who has lived in the property knows when the best times of day are. Here are a few tips:

Is your property on a school route? If so, during term time, it might be best to avoid the morning and afternoon drop-off and pick up times. If you are very close to a school, is it noisy during break-time?

Likewise are you near a pub, sports ground, or factory, which can have crowds of rowdy people spilling onto your street at certain times.

Consider which way your property faces. Bright accommodation and a sunny garden are great selling points, so choose times when the position of the sun is at its best. Perhaps a follow-up viewing is best organised for a different time of day to highlight a feature that might have been missed initially.

Nevertheless, do remember that agents and vendors alike have a duty of care not to misrepresent, so if there is an issue, such as predictable noise at certain times of day, then this should be disclosed. However, the importance of a good first impression cannot be overstressed, to the extent that many people will dismiss a minor inconvenience in light of having first fallen in love with their otherwise perfect home yours!

MATT JOY

INFINITI has only been a separate company from its parent Nissan brand for a little more than a year now. And Infiniti cars have only been built since 1989.

Undeterred, the firm is going up against some of the toughest opposition in the car market in the mighty shapes of Audi, BMW and Mercedes.

The Q50 is the spearhead with which Infiniti wants to give the Germans a poking on their home turf. It's sharply styled and certainly easy on the eye in either of the body styles.

It's sized in between BMW's 3 Series and 5 Series, so it might just be a great catch-all compromise.

The interior design is good, too, with a large centre console giving a snug, comfortable feel to a cabin that isn't as open and spacious-seeming as some thanks to a windscreen and A-pillar sitting closer to the occupants than in rival cars.

The console itself is dominated by two vertically stacked large screens; the top one recessed slightly into the surface and tasked

Fact File

Infiniti Q50S

from £40,000

ENGINE: 3.5-litre V6 petrol-electric hybrid system
TRANSMISSION: 7-speed automatic driving rear wheels
PERFORMANCE: Top speed 155mph (limited), 0-62 in 5.1s
ECONOMY: 45.6mpg
CO² RATING: 144g/km

with displaying the navigation system readout and visuals from the manoeuvring cameras (front and rear).

Unfortunately, this screen is tilted back significantly enough to be prone to glare, especially since it's not angled towards the driver in any way. If the sun is coming through the passenger side window it can be hard to see parts of the navigation readout.

The lower screen, mounted flush with the console and topped with a smooth, glossy plastic cover, is effectively the touchscreen control panel via which the driver can adjust the myriad settings and personalisation options. It is rather vulnerable to fingerprints, but it's quick to respond to touch and offers a clear, crisp app-style layout that anyone with a smartphone should feel right at home with.

Cabin storage is a mixed bag, with shortish door pockets but a big central bin, which also houses two 12-volt power outlets, two USB ports, a 3.5mm jack and even a 'video in' socket to pipe pictures to the top screen - but not while you're driving.

Speaking of driving, you can have the Q50 as a diesel - which borrows Mercedes's slightly clattery but potentially very economical 2,143cc four-cylinder engine - or as a petrol-electric hybrid that uses the electric motor as a supercharger. It works like a charm, too, giving the Q50S an instant swell of torque low down in the rev range before the 3.5-litre V6 takes over to pump the overall power output to 360bhp.

In this guise the car excels in slow traffic under gentle throttle input, where the engine can switch off altogether until the battery is depleted. With the air conditioning on, though, the engine quite often has to keep cutting back in to power the auxiliary systems.

The rear-wheel drive version of the Q50S is a very fine steer on twisty roads, too, where a genuinely adjustable and composed chassis shines through, thanks in part to the clever Direct Adaptive Steering, which in a world-first move isn't connected to the front wheels by any mechanical means. It's completely fly-by-wire which means the steering responsiveness can be customised to how the driver wants it.

It works brilliantly, giving an increased measure of control and a greater sense of confidence, flattering a driver but also giving them the green light to exploit the wealth of talent it has.

There are some small niggles with the new Q50, like the sat-nav screen's glare issue, but it's thoroughly enjoyable to drive. It cruises effortlessly, looks arguably much more stylish than the alternatives and feels solid.

Infiniti's customer service is reportedly something special, too, and you get the feeling that the youngest premium car manufacturer out there might be about to come of age.

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Four-midable Hawks go seven games unbeaten

Harlow 4
Waltham Forest 0
(Ryman Football League, division one north)

THE Hawks extended their unbeaten run to seven games with a comfortable win against bottom of the table Waltham Forest on Saturday, writes DAN BARNARD.

It took the home side just three minutes to take the lead. Shane Stamp showed great skill to beat the Waltham right-back and draw a foul on the corner of the box. Robbie Martin lobbed the resulting free-kick over the head of the Stags keeper and into a top corner.

Harlow Town continued to dominate the first half and went close to adding a second on several occasions. Leon Antoine headed over when well placed on eight minutes.

Hawks manager Danny Chapman lost the lively Antoine to a groin injury just past the half-hour mark.

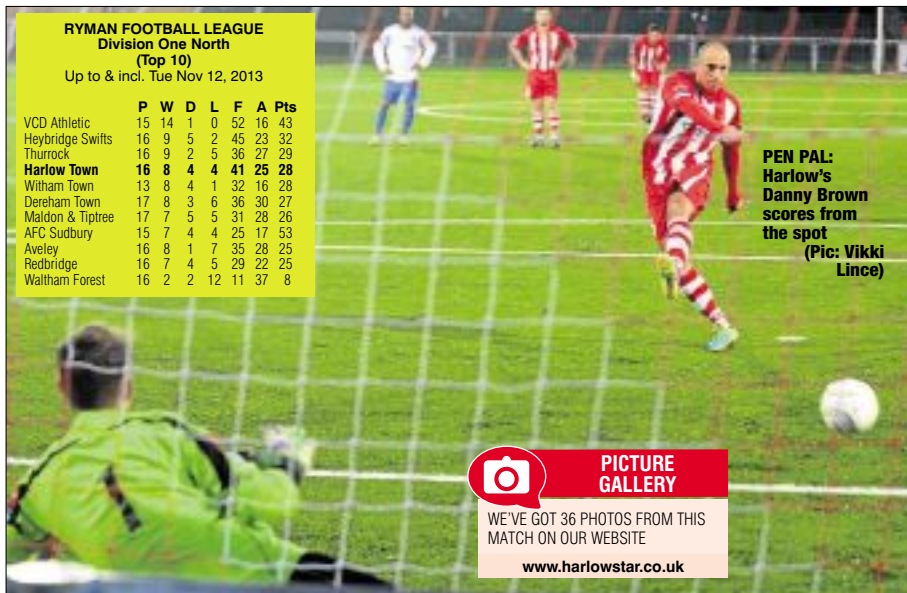

The hosts doubled their lead four minutes into the second half. Danger man Alex Read played a neat through ball to James Smith who beat a man with his first touch before slotting the ball home.

The visitors struggled to deal with Stamp's pace and trickery. The speedy winger enjoyed success down the left wing all afternoon and won his team a penalty in the 68th minute after he was felled just inside the box.

Danny Brown stepped up to the mark and sent David Myers the wrong way with a low drive into the corner of the net to make it 3-0.

Stamp capped an impressive performance with a deserved goal of his own just one minute later.

Chapman was full of praise for his team and Stamp in particular, he said: "Shane went through a bit of a rough patch but he's worked his socks off over the past two weeks to get back to a level he knows he can be at."

"For the first 20 minutes he was unplayable, in the second half his work rate was excellent. I'm really pleased for him but obviously I'm more pleased for us."

Harlow have now picked up seven points from their last three home games and Chapman remains confident his side can push for the title.

He added: "I think you've always got to set your goals as high as you possibly can."

"Our aim is to go and win the league but we're not getting carried away, that's seven games unbeaten, five wins and two draws, which is fantastic."

"All we can keep doing is winning matches. I've been here for seven years now as a player and a manager and we've always struggled against teams at the bottom."

"If you want to be title contenders then you have to win games like these. Today was a big test for us and we came through it with flying colours."

The recent cash boost from new major Hawks sponsor John Barnett has excited many at the club.

Chapman added: "It's massive for the football club, they [OPT FX] are a huge company and to have someone like them on board with us just goes to show what the club has achieved since the end of last season."

HARLOW TN: Behcet, Martin, Eadie, McLeod-Urquhart, Brown (Greene 76), Blewitt (Curley 52), Smith, Glowacki, Read, Antoine (Dadson 32), Stamp. Subs not used: Hart, May.

Tegate into regional finals

A NETBALL team from Harlow have secured a place in the Eastern regional finals of the English National Club competition.

Tegate Netball Club's Under-16 team qualified after a series of outstanding performances.

The girls played four very tough games of which they won two, drew one and lost one to come through the Essex qualifier.

Joanne Hunt, Tegate NC coach, said: "It was a very close competition and the girls secured their place in the regional finals to be held on the 29th of March on goal difference. The coaches at Tegate are very proud of the girls' achievement and are now working very hard on getting them ready for the next round and hopefully progress to the national finals."

Tegate beat Chelmsford-based Conquerors 14-9 and Saffron Hawks 14-5, drew with Flames (Chelmsford) 8-8 but lost to Brookshaw 10-8 to qualify on goal difference.

Hunt has been coach of the U-16s for two years and the girls have been together for four years.

They play in the Chelmsford League on Saturday evenings and the Harlow Netball League at the Leisurezone on Tuesdays during the winter and the Turnford League in the summer.

ATHLETICS: Two Harlow pupils showed great courage after sustaining falls on Saturday, but were brave enough to get back up and finish their races at the Metropolitan Cross Country League at Stevenage.

Rosie Poole (14), a Stewards School student, still placed a very good fourth in the U-15 girls race over 4km. She clocked a fantastic time of 15 minutes and 52 seconds.

Megan Caswell (12), a Burnt Mill pupil, was 14th in the U-13 girls race in 13.35.

Canaan Solomon made it two wins out of two as he won the U-15/17 boys with ease in 12.59 for the 4km course.

Behind Canaan was Burnt Mill student Owen Armstrong (14) who was 20th in 14.7.

In 47th place was Burnt Mill student Jack Shury (14), clocking 17.37.

In the U-13 boys race over 3km, Alfie Poole (12), a Stewards School student, was ninth in 11.27.

David Badmus (11), a Mark Hall student, was 23rd in 12.19.

In the U-13 girls race, Mia Hirons (12), a St Nicholas student, was 11th over 3km in 13.20.

WOMEN'S RUGBY: Harlow Ladies won 65-0 at home to Tabard Ladies in the RFU Women's Junior Cup first round on Sunday.

The Rams ran in 11 tries in a convincing win. Fifteen minutes in outside centre Emma Cooper made a break and ran in the first try of what was to become a hat-trick.

Ten minutes later Julie Gilbert powered her way through before Emma Cooper and Sarah Stimpson added tries.

Alison Boggas, Gilbert (2), Stimpson, Sarah McCarthy, Ann-Marie Rand and Cooper (2) completed the try feast.

CELEBRATION GAME: Harlow's Craig Edwards passed his black belt grading the same week as he passed his 21st birthday (s)

Birthday boy Craig celebrates passing black belt grading

JUDO

MARTIAL artist Craig Edwards had two reasons to celebrate after he passed his black belt judo grading at the same time as he celebrated his 21st birthday.

Edwards is a member of Harlow's The Edge Martial Arts Studio.

Edwards gained his 1st dan black belt after passing a tough grading session in a competition at High Wycombe.

Edwards has gained his BJA Instructors/Coaching Award, passed his theory examination with maximum points and gained his points from competition and grading contests.

The Edge head coach Mark Conway, the father of Great Britain Olympic judo star Sally Conway, said: "Craig came to me as a complete novice and in three years has gained his dan grade, also his promotion coincides with his 21st birthday."

"Craig is a devoted student, he has benefitted from the wide range of experiences offered at Edge Judo."

"He has volunteered his time to help coach judo sessions at the college and secondary schools in Harlow, had one-on-one sessions at the club, travelled to other clubs for valuable Randori (fight training) experiences and has taken his chances on the mat."

Edge Judo senior sessions take place at Passmores Academy, Tracys Rd, Harlow on Mondays (6.30pm-8pm).

Beehan's jumping after top haul at Abbey

STORT Valley Angling Society continued their season's outings by visiting Southend Farm fishery at Waltham Abbey.

A sudden drop in temperature affected the day's sport for the Harlow club, but Steve Beehan managed to net a fine 43lbs 8ozs, including a 14lbs 11oz carp to take top spot.

Kevin Shaw also had a fruitful day in second place, weighing in 37lbs 11ozs, over 10 pounds ahead of Mick Westby on 27lbs 9ozs.

Steve Turnbull's vast knowledge of the local river saw him lift this year's Stort Cup with 6lbs 4ozs, which included a fine tench.

The Society's latest coach outing took them to the Ramsey Forty Foot drain in Cambridgeshire, where Steve Turnbull continued his winning streak by banking 12lbs 12ozs comprising three fine tench. Colin Cotterell also had two weighty tench in his second-placed net of 11lbs 5ozs, with Mick Westby again in third place with 9lbs 8ozs.

This weight had secured Westby's victory over Kevin Shaw in the 2013 singles final.

Late heartache as Rams see unbeaten run ended

Harlow 17
Old Cooperians 19
(RFU London division three north east)

THE Rams suffered a narrow defeat against title-chasing Old Cooperians on Saturday.

Harlow went down 17-19 in RFU London & South East division three north east.

It ended their recent unbeaten run of three successive wins.

In another extremely close contest the Rams suffered a late yellow card for flanker Josh Drake, while the visitors kicked a matchwinning penalty two minutes from time.

It was annoying for Harlow because again their pack dominated and in terms of territory and tries scored they had the edge.

As in the past, discipline let them down.

And unfortunately the visitors had a kicker who could put the ball over from anywhere in the opposition half.

Harlow, however, did not take this on board; 14 of the visitors' points came from his boot.

This left Harlow in sixth place in the league which is becoming a very open contest.

Almost immediately after the start Harlow conceded a penalty just inside their own half for failing to roll away after the tackle.

The visitors' number 9 slotted with ease a kick that must have been 45 yards plus.

Five minutes later Cooperians kicked way downfield and Jamie Fricker and their winger gave chase as the ball went towards the line.

The Harlow player was judged to have taken out his opponent before he gathered the ball, conceding a penalty try and a 10 point lead to Cooperians.

For the next quarter of an hour the game was more of a midfield slog but at least when the visitors did break the Harlow back row and centres tackling was solid.

The first part of a Harlow revival came when skipper Shaun Roberts took a reverse pass and made a solo break for the line.

He brushed off two defenders and touched down under the posts. Michael Dobson converted.

A penalty allowed Cooperians to extend their lead to 7-13.

Then in the last couple of minutes Harlow hit back when fullback Rob Mackie came into the line to make the extra man and touched down out wide.

Dobson converted and Harlow went into the interval with a 14-13 lead.

There had been heavy rain before the match and intermittent showers made good handling difficult.

Most of the second half was a cut and thrust game and the Harlow pack continued to dominate.

Cooperians did make several good attacks ball in hand but the conditions made it difficult to hold on to passes and it began to look as if Harlow were going to retain their minimal lead.

Then with 12 minutes to go Drake was yellow carded for taking out a player without the ball.

It meant Harlow had to play out time a man short.

A couple of minutes later a Cooperians penalty put them ahead 14-16.

Three minutes after that Dobson added a penalty for Harlow, putting them back in the lead 17-16.

With only a few minutes to go Cooperians scored a penalty to re-take the lead and then held on to record a narrow victory.

Comprehensive victory in side's league opener

HARLOW Tennis Club's men's second team recorded a comprehensive 14-2 victory against Henham II in the Small Clubs League division two.

It was the first match of the winter season.

Harlow are hoping to build on their third place in the summer league.

Harlow pair Paul Pattison and Steve Dodd won their first match versus Richard Balls and Edward Bank 6-1, 6-1.

Harlow pair Kieran Wills and Fred Lloyd won their first match 6-2, 6-1 v Laurence Ward and James Ward.

TENNIS

In the reverse matches Kieran Wills and Fred Lloyd won 6-0, 6-1 against Richard Balls and Edward Brooks and in Paul Pattison's and Steve Dodd's second match, honours were even 6-3, 3-6 versus Laurence and James Ward.

The Henham pair played very gritty tennis in less than ideal conditions, windy and rainy.

There was some excellent spirit despite the adverse conditions and also at times some great rallies and winners.

Ladies so pleased to see back of Wapping

PETRA Trimble shone for Harlow Ladies as they slipped to a second successive loss to a Wapping team in the premier division of the Essex Women's Hockey League.

Having lost to Wapping's fourth team last week, they went down 5-1 to the third team on Saturday.

Both Wapping teams play in the premier division.

Harlow dominated the first half and had numerous opportunities to score. Excellent defence kept Harlow at bay.

Wapping then struck twice.

Harlow halved the deficit when Bethan Spencer's rebound was put away by Sandra Turner.

Wapping made it 3-1 before a controversial penalty flick awarded to Harlow deflected off a post.

Two late goals made it a rout. HARLOW: Rowley (GK), Castle, Hansson, Chambers, Shearman, Tweddle, Spencer, Thomas, Trimble, Smith, Byers, Turner.

● HARLOW won 5-0 at home to Thurrock in the East Men's Hockey League. Andrew Boughtwood hit his second hat-trick of the season and now has nine goals in seven games. Robert Chandler was among the scorers.

Osagie is guest as HTCC mark great season

GREAT Britain Olympic 800m finalist Andrew Osagie was the guest at Harlow Town Cricket Club's annual presentation night.

Held at Blake's Golf Club in North Weald on Saturday, Osagie handed out some of the prizes.

Osagie is gearing up for next year's Commonwealth Games in Glasgow but told the Star he was pleased to skip high altitude training in Kenya this year which meant he could spend more time with his friends, including Harlow Town first team skipper Ashley Alderson.

The pair studied A-Levels together.

But the focus on Saturday was the impressive achievements of the cricket club.

Two of the top awards went to Harlow Town's Shaun Alderson, who enjoyed a phenomenal season with bat and ball.

Trophies are named after former players.

Shaun Alderson won the Arnie Gajraj All Rounder

Shield after taking 44 wickets, scoring more than 400 runs and a top score of 81, plus 14 catches.

He also scooped the John Drewett Cup for bowling. His haul of 44 wickets came at an average of 17.64 and a season best of 5-35.

Not to be outdone his brother Scott secured the Gary Terry Cup for the highest run scorer after notching up 739 runs and a top score of 115 not out.

Meanwhile, former

Herts and Safron Walden cricketer Neil Gladwin, and ex-Sawbridgeworth skipper Joe Holland – the brother of former professional footballer and Republic of Ireland international Matt Holland – were at the awards night as they were unveiled as the club's new first team signings for 2014 (see next week's Star for interviews with these players).

Other awards were presented to: Brian Teale Cup (Clubman of the Year) – Paul Morrell; President's Trophy – Daniel Gleeson; 5th XI Player of the Year – Taylor Wood; 4th XI Player of the Year – George Richardson; 3rd XI Player of the Year – Nick Teale; 2nd XI Player of the Year – Darryl Pettengell; 1st XI player of the year – Shiraz Ali; Martin Gladwin Fielding Shield – Ben Eversden.

Hawks fight back to seal another win

HARLOW Hawks triumphed 52-47 at home to Michaelians in division two of the Hertfordshire Basketball League.

The hosts imposed themselves on the game early as Rimantas Norkelionas was a beast on the offensive boards and earned himself six trips to the free throw line.

Hawks moved the ball well on the offensive end but only really had success attacking the basket as they displayed bad form on most of their jump shots.

The home side led at the end of the first quarter 15-9.

The second quarter is one the home side will want to erase from its memory, they managed only three baskets in the entire period. Their play was littered with sloppy passes, unforced turnovers and missed shots and allowed the visitors to reduce the deficit.

However, they still never managed to get their noses in front as the Hawks limped into the half-time break up 22-18.

Michaelians started the second half with two long range bombs to tie the game, this lifted their confidence as they continued their run and took a four-point lead.

The home side's offensive troubles continued although it wasn't for the lack of effort.

The shots were not falling and confidence seemed at a low.

A three pointer from Sam Kmita and a jump shot from Lee Morris meant the Hawks went into the final period down 37-34.

The Hawks came out fighting as the defensive intensity went up a couple of gears, making it hard work for the visitors to put points on the board.

It was Roan Lenihan who got the run going and restored the lead.

Morris drained a corner three-pointer to open up a small advantage.

Coach Shab Niaz put on his experienced players to close out the match.

The points dried up but Harlow held on for a narrow victory.

HARLOW HAWKS: Lenihan (14pts), Kmita (11pts), Norkelionas (6pts), Stonehouse (6pts), Morris (5pts), Whytock (4pts), Moss (4pts), Martin (2pts), Jones, Lovett, Adnan, Frieder.

Newport use Arena for Cup warm-up

FORMER Spurs star Justin Edinburgh took advantage of the all-weather facilities at The Harlow Arena as he drilled his Newport troops ahead of the Sky Bet League Two club's FA Cup match at Braintree Town at the weekend.

The Welsh club used the artificial pitch at Harlow Town FC's ground, and the Hawks hope more professional clubs will start using the plush facility for training camps when playing teams in the South East.

Speaking on Friday Edinburgh said: "The facilities at The Harlow Arena are superb. It's been the perfect place for us to prepare for our match tomorrow."

Newport full-back Billy Jones was also able to speak to the man who launched his professional football career, Hawks chief executive Tom Cunningham.

Jones said: "I've known

Tommy for years since he discovered me at Leyton Orient. He is football through and through so it's been great to come here and see what he is achieving at Harlow. The facilities at the Harlow Arena are very impressive."

Meanwhile, on the pitch Harlow stretched their unbeaten run to eight games with two late goals at Chatham Town, despite having goalkeeper Darren Behcet sent off.

Danny Chapman's men are now fourth in Ryman division one north.

After a goalless first half on Tuesday, the match exploded into life on 51 minutes.

Behcet was dismissed after handling the ball on the edge of the box.

He will now serve a one-match ban.

Chapman sent on substitute keeper James May with Leon Antoine the unfortunate player to be hooked.

The Hawks hung in there despite their numerical disadvantage and they upset the odds on 90 minutes, when Junior Dadson, who had come off the bench for Shane Stamp three minutes earlier, hit the back of the net when he confused the keeper with an air shot before rifling in at the second attempt.

The victory was sealed in added time when Alex Read fired in to take home all three points.

Harlow are not in action this Saturday as their scheduled opponents, AFC Sudbury, are in action in the FA Trophy. This league match in Suffolk has now been rearranged for December 17.

HARLOW TN: Behcet, Martin, Eadie, Mcleod-Urquhart, Brown, Blewitt, Smith, Glowacki, Read, Antoine (May 51), Stamp (Dadson 87).
